

Recannalizations of Occluded Major Veins

This is a catheter procedure done through a needle stick under general anesthesia. This procedure was developed to replace older open surgical procedures that involved risk, down-time and complications. The new procedure has turned out to be highly successful with very few complications.

THE RANE CENTER
FOR VENOUS AND LYMPHATIC DISEASES
AT RIVER OAKS